CUT HER THROAT

With a Razor, Allegation of One Plaintiff.

Several divorce suits have been filed here this week.

Phoebe Tucker sues for legal separation from Clarence Tucker. They were married in 1898 and lived together until August, 1903, when plaintiff states that the defendant cruelly assaulted her with a razor and cut her throat, and thinking her dead, fled to Clarksville.

Suberlia Farrar sues Geo. Farrar. They were married in 1896, in Tennessee, but are now residents of this county. Plaintiff alleges that they separated in January, 1898, since which time they have lived apart.

Agnes Reese wants a divorce from Bailey Reese, and charges abandonment.

Addie Brent prays a divorce from Alfred Brent. The petitioner states that they were married in 1897 and lived together as man and wife until the year 1892, when they separated.

Montague Wilson Maddox vs Scott Maddox, Jr., is the style of another suit. Plaintiff states that they were married in 1897 and a short time after the wedding the defendant deserted her.

F. S. Cathoun files suit against Ollie Cathoun. They were married near Bainbridge in June, 1903, and in October of the same year defendant abandoned him, says plaintiff in his petition for a legal separation.

RALLY AT PERRY'S.

Big Day Next Saturday For The Tobacco Growers.

The tobacco growers of the Perry's School House district will have a picnic and dinner on the grounds, at Perry's School House next Saturday, May 27. It will be given in the interest of the tobacco grower's association of the county.

Col. F. G. Ewing, Mr. Allen, Mr. Fort and other good speakers will probably be on hand. It is expected to be largely attended and the occasion will be an important one in several respects. The farmers of the vicinity will entertain everybody with the unstinted hospitality characteristic of the people of the best county in Kentucky.

SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Lyceum Course Netted Nearly $300 For Tabernacle.

The Lyceum course of the Tabernacle has closed with a successful season in spite of the late start and the disadvantages encountered. Mr. H. L. McPherson, to whom the success was due, has been re-elected as manager and has been able to turn over to the Tabernacle from $250 to $300 in profits. He is already booking attractions for next year and will do much better another year. He is a fine man for this kind of work and the people thoroughly appreciate his efforts to provide them with these platform entertainments.

MONUMENT

To The Late Dr. John O. Rust.

A committee, representing the citizens of Nashville, came to this city last Monday with authority to remove the remains of the late Rev. J. O. Rust to that place. So dear was Dr. Rust to the people of Nashville that they have determined to erect a monument to his memory. His body and those of his two children were exhumed under the supervision of Waller & Rogers and shipped to Nashville Monday afternoon.

Nearing Completion.

The Hopkinsville Canning Co., is ready for business. Every piece of machinery is in place and everything adapted to a nice line of vegetables that can be raised will be needed by the company. In a few days the company will extend a grand invitation for the inspection of the plant.

GOOD LUCK

Comes to Mr. A. A. Winfree in the Shape of $104.

Tuesday morning when Mrs. Alex. Winfree left home to come into the city to attend the meeting of the Woman's Christian Missionary Association her husband handed her $104 in money and his bank book, telling her to deposit the money in one of the city banks. Mrs. Winfree occupied a seat in a car with Miss Jones, of Pembroke. When the train reached Hopkinsville the two ladies got off the train, leaving their bundles behind them, and it was several hours before they realized that they had ever had bundles in their possession. When Rev. J. W. Gant, of Elkton passed through the aisle of the car he noticed a couple of bundles lying on the floor, which he picked up and handed to the conductor, who indifferently tossed them up into the bundle rack over head. After Mrs. Winfree realized that she had lost her husband's money that he had given her to deposit in his bank she telegraphed Capt. Robinson, conductor of train No. 52, and reached him somewhere between here and St. Louis. He wired back that he had both the ladies' bundles and that he would send them back on train No. 51 yesterday afternoon due at 5:18. Mr. Winfree, who is a merchant at Casky, is to be congratulated on his good luck, and no doubt thinks he owes a good treat to both Mr. Gant and the conductor of No. 52.

Officers for 1905-06.

Just before adjournment of the Woman's Missionary Association Tuesday afternoon the following officers for the ensuing year were elected:

Mrs. Elizabeth Gish, Secretary.
Mrs. Elizabeth Farrer, of Princeton, Secretary.
Miss Bettie Hopper, Recording Secretary.
Mrs. James A. Young, Corresponding Secretary.

BUSY WEEK.

Tobacco Coming in With a Regular Rush.

Receipts of the weed were again very heavy for the week just past and sales were very good. The association warehouses are getting a full share and are rapidly filling up. The work of pricing in this branch of the business is progressing nicely and much of that brought in is now ready for the market.

Loose receipts on the floor Tuesday amounted to probably fifty thousand pounds, all disposed of at satisfactory figures. The sales on the floor today are expected to be heavier than those of the first of the week.

Hoghead receipts continue good.

SUES FOR $2,000.

Young Woman of Sinking Fork Seeks Damages.

Willie Bell Owen, by her guardian, has sued the I. C. railroad for $1,950 and $50 damages. She states in her petition that one day in this month she purchased a ticket here for Green's Crossing, and when she attempted to get aboard the cars, the train gave a sudden jerk, throwing her to the ground and dragging her twenty-five feet, and that two of her ribs were broken and she sustained other serious injuries. She further charges that the accident was due to the gross negligence and carelessness of the company's employees in moving the train without warning.

NEXT HIGHEST BAPTIST IN ALL AMERICA

Dr. J. N. Prestridge, Secretary of the United Association.

TO WORLD CONGRESS. Distinguished Editor Once Pastor of the Hopkinsville Baptist Church.

At St. Louis the Baptists of America, North and South, of Canada and the nearby islands, have entered into a great common body, the General Baptist Convention of America. Dr. J. N. Prestridge, editor of the Baptist Argus, of this city, is secretary, and the headquarters of the General Baptist Convention have been located in Louisville, at 350 Third avenue. When the Baptist World Congress, London, July 11-18, 1905, became assured a call was made by Dr. H. L. Moorehouse, of New York City, for this organization of the Baptists of America, a constitution and by-laws were adopted and a second meeting was ordered for next May, the time and place being left to the executive committee. A subcommittee was appointed to secure the meetings of the Southern Baptist Convention and the Northern societies next May in the same or nearby cities so that the General Baptist Convention may meet between the sessions of these bodies, as it did in St. Louis, and so have a general attendance.

Great enthusiasm prevailed in St. Louis, and prophecies were freely made by both sides of a new era for the Baptist denomination. The new body will not interfere with the organization, and work of either of the other bodies. It is fitting that Louisville should become the headquarters of the United Baptists of America. The Baptist World Congress was born and shaped in Louisville. A large number of messengers from Kentucky will sail the last of June for London to attend this meeting. Among them is President E. Y. Mullins, Courier-Journal.

It is a source of profound pride here in Hopkinsville that Dr. Prestridge, who will go to London as one of the principal officers of the highest Baptist body in America, was once the popular pastor of the local church. He voluntarily resigned his charge here, after marrying a Christian country girl, a daughter of Dr. J. D. Clardy, and for the last 15 years has engaged in journalism. Dr. Prestridge is almost certain to be an officer of the World's Congress.

OFFICIAL CALL

Of the Senatorial Primary Election to be Held July 8.

At a meeting of the Democratic Committee of the Sixth Senatorial District of Kentucky, composed of the counties of Christian and Hopkins, held in the city of Madisonville, on the 16th day of May, 1905, present, James West, of Christian county, and Lee Gibson, of Hopkins county. Upon motion of James West the following resolution was passed:

Whereas, there is a contest in the District between Charles M. Meacham and Jos. E. Moseley for the nomination of the Democratic party for Senator, now, therefore, for the purpose of settling the contest of these candidates, Resolved that a primary election be held, at such time as may hereafter be determined. The expenses of which shall be equally borne by said candidates named, and in event either candidate fails to comply with the conditions of entrance the primary shall be called off and the remaining candidate declared the nominee by this committee; or if there is no candidate by the second day of June, then in that event this Committee will meet and declare the nominee.

Whereupon the Committee adopted the following as the official call for said Primary Election, which is ordered published and treated as the Official call of this Committee for said primary election and said call is as follows:

A call is hereby made by the Senatorial Democratic Committee for the counties of Christian and Hopkins for a legalized Primary Election, to be held in said Counties at each voting precinct of said counties as now established on the 8th day of July, 1905, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic candidate for said Senatorial District, to be voted for at the regular November Election, 1905. Said Primary Election to be held under the general provision of the Primary Election Law of this Commonwealth.

All known Democrats who have heretofore affiliated with the Democratic party and will agree to support the nominee and all persons under 21 years of age but who will be of age by the November election, 1905, and express their purpose of affiliating with the Democratic party and agree to support the nominee are entitled to vote in said election. All persons who are candidates in said election are hereby assessed the sum of $300.00 for the purpose of paying the expenses of said election, the same to be paid to this committee on or before June 1st, 1905. The right is hereby reserved by this Committee to increase the assessment of the candidates in said primary in the event the amount above named should not be enough to pay the legal expenses of same, or if said amount is more than is necessary to pay the legal expenses of said primary the same will be refunded to the candidates after said election is over.

THE SINS OF THE FATHER.

Georgia Bishop Tells Story of How Sins' Wrongs Descend on Harmless Offspring.

Bishop Rawdon, of Georgia, illustrated the other day a well known text with an anecdote in the New York Tribune.

"There was once a bad carrier," he said, "whose name was Jerome McWade. Jerome was working on a job in the country last summer, and in order to reach the railroad station to take the train home, it was necessary for him each evening to cross a large, flat field.

"There was a small bull in this field one evening, and it gave Jerome a terrible chase. He fled like the wind before it for more than a mile, and only escaped just in time, by making a wonderful leap over a five-foot fence.

"The next evening, on his homeward way, Jerome carried his hod with him for a weapon. Swinging the heavy hod he entered the field fearlessly, but this time the bull was absent. Only a calf, a playful, harmless little calf, could Jerome find. He approached the calf, and being greatly excited, and determined to be revenged, he struck the little animal a violent blow with his hod, at the same time exclaiming loudly: "Take that, and tell your father Jerome McWade did it!"

JONAH AND JOE-NAH.

And then said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots and the lot fell upon Jonah.

CHAPTER I.

We are told that "History repeats itself" and "There is nothing new under the sun."

The object of this book in four chapters will be to show that both of these adages are true.

A little more than twenty-eight centuries ago, Jonah, the son of Amittai, received a call amounting to a divine command to arise and go to Nineveh. Instead of going to Nineveh, he found a ship and set sail for Tarshish. His disobedience caused a mighty storm to be stirred up at sea and the ship was in great danger of being sunk by the tempest. The mariners were superstitious enough to believe that some one of the passengers aboard was causing the commotion of the waters, and while discussing the affair with blanched faces and fear in their hearts, the words at the head of this article were uttered and "the lot fell upon Jonah."

From that day to this, down through the succeeding centuries, an unwelcome or trouble-producing passenger has been called a Jonah. The sailors, we are told, threw Jonah overboard and "the sea ceased from raging." What happened to Jonah afterwards will be explained in another chapter.

In this good year of our Lord 1906, history has repeated itself, if we may ask pardon for a seeming irrelevance, claiming license under the proverb "Vox populi, vox dei"—the voice of the people is the voice of God.

Our friend, Joe Moseley, whom we will call Joe-nah for short, was called upon by 400 of the people to rise up and go in the direction of the sheriff's office and warn the occupants that they must prepare to move out. Joe-nah set sail on the political sea, but instead of obeying the command of the people, he started in an opposite direction with his gaze fixed on the senatorial Tarshish.

His disobedience has caused a terrible tempest and the mariners have investigated until the Democrats of two counties know full well who has disturbed the placidity of the party waters. The lots have been cast and "the lot has fallen upon Joe-nah."

Joe-nah was accordingly taken up, regretfully but firmly and cast forth into the tidal waves of popular disapprobation.

It had to be done. No man is greater than the public power and will. Joe-nah was told to go to one place and he insisted upon going to another where his presence was not needed, thereby causing "evil to fall upon" his party. He was thrown overboard because it was not only necessary, but was in reality the best thing that could happen for Joe-nah. This will become apparent as the story proceeds.

The next chapter will deal with

"The Whale That Swallowed Joe-nah."

"THE WHALE THAT SWALLOWED JOE-NAH."

And Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.—Jonah I: 17.

CHAPTER II.

In our last chapter we left our ancient Jonah, floundering in the waters of a troubled sea, where he was soon swallowed up by a great fish and remained for 72 hours in his uncomfortable quarters. He was finally "vomited out upon dry land."

When our modern Joe-nah was set adrift in the political soup tureen, he was immediately swallowed up by "a great fish," a Huge Whale, who protested that he had nothing to do with "bringing him out" even while gulping him down. And the Huge Whale spoke the literal truth, for he did not bring Joe-nah out—he brought him in. Once inside, Joe-nah set himself to hard thinking.

"Here I am," he reasoned, "inside this H. W., with no prospect of ever being either sheriff or senator, so long as I am in this fix. How to get out is now the question that puzzles this candidate. It is true I am getting along swimmingly, but suppose some one were to harpoon the Whale for the oil that is in him, then where would Joe-nah be?"

The more Joe-nah thought about it the more he wanted to get out, and so he began to kick so vigorously and persistently that he became a troublesome lodger and finally the Whale not only consented for him to move but assisted him to vacate, and the first thing Joe-nah did was to publicly declare that the Whale was surprised when he "came out."

Of course it was quite natural that Joe-nah should tell a fishy story after the experience he had gone through. Some one may say that he had not gone through the experience, since he came out the same way he went in, but this is a technical difference that really doesn't matter, considering the inside information he gained while making the round trip. But now that we have gotten Joe-nah safe outside the H. W., the next chapter will tell about "The Gourd Vine That Sheltered Joe-nah."

THE GOURD VINE THAT SHELTERED JOE-NAH.

And the Lord prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his grief. So Jonah was exceedingly glad of the gourd.—Jonah IV: 6.

CHAPTER III.

After Jonah got rid of his whale, or the whale got rid of his Jonah, as the case may have been, Jonah faced about, and, as Sam Jones said, "struck a trot for Nineveh." He found, however, that the town intended for him at Nineveh was not then needed and Jonah went outside the walls of the city and sat down on the sunny side of the wall, in that tropical country, to cool off and that "he might see what would come of the city."

Then it was that the Lord in his goodness caused a gourd vine to spring up in a single night and shelter him from the fierce heat of the sun the next day.

So Joe-nah when he found nothing doing around the city he had expected to create a sensation in, naturally took a day off to find out where he was at. He was simply in need of some sort of friendly shelter and thus it was that a Gourd Vine came to his rescue. Whether or not the Gourd Vine was a sweet-scented one or just an ordinary gourd vine that cows will not eat, we are not able to positively assert. One thing, however, is quite well established. The Gourd Vine, or the G. V., as we will call it to save ink, was of sudden growth. It did not grow up in a single night, perhaps, but it sprang into notice without warning to the public and flourished luxuriantly for a short while. If you read your Bibles like you ought to, you will find that just as Jonah was enjoying himself most under the shade of his vine, along came a worm "and gnawed the gourd that it withered."

And so our Joe-nah found rather poor shelter under his G. V. Just when it seemed about to cover the whole wall something happened to it. Guess what it was? Along came a worm hunting something green to feed upon and what should it do but find Joe-nah's great and only G. V. Oh! cruel fate! Oh! destroying worm! You will ask, perhaps, how a mere worm could ruin a great umbrageous vine large enough to shelter Joe-nah, head and all. Here is how it was done. The worm knew how to bore. He picked out a soft place on the cool side of the vine and began to put in sixteen hours a day boring. He bored the vine and in the end he bored Joe-nah, and that worm is still busy. But perhaps we had better save a chapter to tell about

"The Worm That Bored For Joe-nah."

THE WORM.

The end sun beat down upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted and wished within himself to die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.—Jonah IV: 8.

CHAPTER IV.

Jonah I, when he lost his gourd vine, fainted under the relentless heat of summer in a country where they look for frost when the mercury drops below 100 in the shade. Jonah was in such a hot box that he no doubt wished he was back in the headquarters of the Huge Whale, where he could at least keep cool.

After Joe-nah II lost his Gourd Vine, and there was nothing else green for the worm to feed upon, he staid with Joe-nah. The borer said to Joe-nah, "There is no doubt of the fact that it is getting too warm for both of us here, but if you will follow me I can find a nice cool place about thirty miles to the north, where the climate is mild and pleasant and I can bore vines while you bore the people."

And Joe-nah departed, in company with the Worm that bored the Gourd Vine, that sheltered Joe-nah after he escaped from the Whale that swallowed him when he was pitched into the soup.

Have you seen them? If not, look out for them as they are coming. Get a Cold Deal ready for Joe-nah, but use insect powder on the Worm.

Now, who is Joe-nah's Worm? For the first correct answer to this puzzle in politics, we will give a jug of Butter-milk and a pound of Jersey Butter.

This prize is suggested by the fact that the book of Jonah closes with the words "much cattle."

Rev. Benj. B. Bigstaff, the famous mountain evangelist, died at Lexington last week. He was one of the first Kentuckians to join the Confederate army and was with Gen. Jno. H. Morgan's command. He participated in more than 300 battles. He was manager of a distillery until fifteen years ago, when he was converted and became a Presbyterian evangelist. Until four months ago he was chaplain of the Confederate Home.

DANGEROUS KIDNEY DISEASES CURED

Pe-ru-na Creating a National Sensation in the Cure of Chronic Afflictions of The Kidneys.

Fred R. Pennell, Pianist, Grand Opera House, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

"Two years ago I came to Hot Springs to take the baths and be treated for bladder and kidney trouble. After spending two months here under the care of one of the most prominent physicians and receiving little or no benefit, I was persuaded to try Pe-ru-na. I had little faith in it, but after using one bottle I noticed a marked improvement. Three bottles entirely cured me. I can cheerfully recommend Pe-ru-na to any one afflicted as I was."—Fred R. Pennell.

Thomas M. Hicks, 1311 18th St., Louisville, Ky., writes:

"Neglected colds, irregular habits and overwork brought on serious kidney and bladder troubles. My blood seemed inflamed with poison, my stomach became entirely demoralized, a bad odor emanated from my urine, and I realized I was a sick man. The doctors dosed me to their heart's content, but I kept growing worse. Then fortune brought Pe-ru-na to my notice and I at once began to mend. I kept taking it for five months before I was completely cured. I feel now that I owe my life to Pe-ru-na and will never cease to be grateful."—Thomas M. Hicks.

S. L. Earle, Superintendent of Streets, Jacksonville, Fla., writes:

"I am a firm believer in Pe-ru-na. I find that it has been of practical benefit to a number of the men employed in the Street Cleaning Department in the city of Jacksonville. They are especially exposed to the inclemency of the weather and a number who caught cold, which later developed into pneumonia, kidney or liver trouble, were cured through the use of Pe-ru-na."—S. ### NEXT WEEK

Will be Full of Amusement For Everybody.

Never in one week has Hopkinsville had such a fund of amusements as will be enjoyed by the people of this county and city, beginning with Monday and lasting until Saturday night.

The Street Carnival Co. will close its engagement in Nashville Saturday and arrive here on Sunday morning. The company will be here the whole week, under the auspices of the local lodge of Woodmen.

The great Van Amburg shows give two exhibitions, Monday and Monday night.

The May Music Festival begins Friday and closes on Saturday night. Hopkinsville will be full of people during the whole week and if the people throughout the county want a good time they should not fail to make arrangements to come into the city, for the attractions cannot fail to please them.

Son Lost Mother.

"Consumption runs in our family, and through it I lost my mother," writes W. B. Reid, of Harmony, Mo. "For the past five years, however, on the slightest sign of a cough or cold, I have taken Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, which has saved me from serious lung trouble." His mother's death was a sad loss for Mr. Reid, but he learned that lung trouble must not be neglected, and how to cure it. Quickest relief and cure for coughs and colds, Price 50c and $1; guaranteed at R. C. Hardwick's drug store. Trial bottle free.

E. M. Gooch Injured.

Little Rock, Ark., May 22.—Mr. E. M. Gooch, a traveling man who resides at Nineteenth and Main streets, returned home Monday from Cabool, Mo., where he was quite seriously injured in a runaway accident several days ago. He was thrown from a buggy in which he and another man were riding, two miles from Cabool, and a finger, collar bone and two ribs were broken.

A letter to the Kentuckian from Mr. Gooch's son says his father is now resting nicely and recovering from his injuries.

Patent Hamper.

Mr. T. L. Metcalfe has secured a patent on his Shipping Hamper, that has been in use in his laundry for a year or more. It is a barrel-shaped basket device, with no corners to be knocked in shipping. It has runners on it like a basket and can be used for a variety of purposes. Mr. Metcalfe expects to make a good thing out of his invention.

WOMAN'S BOARD

Hold Their Eighteenth Annual Meeting.

The Woman's Board of the South Kentucky Christian church held their meeting at the Christian church last Monday night and Tuesday morning and afternoon.

Mrs. Manning Brown delivered the address of welcome. Mrs. J. B. LaRue, of Owensboro, responded on behalf of the delegates. Mrs. Elizabeth Gish Sargent, who was elected President of the Board last year, delivered a well prepared and interesting address, in which the great work of the past year was presented and the call for faithful service for the coming year was impressed upon her auditors.

Mrs. Jas. A. Young, Secretary and Treasurer of the Board, made her annual report.

Mrs. Sarah Yancey, State Secretary, entertained the audience at the Tuesday morning session with a beautiful address, which cannot fail of inspiring the women for more earnest service in the future.

The afternoon session was taken up in the hearing reports from district managers and reports of committees but an interesting feature of the program was the "Children's Hour," conducted by Mr. S. W. Bedford, of Owensboro.

The first session of the 31st annual meeting of the State Kentucky Missionary and Sunday School Association was held on Tuesday night. Prof. H. Clay Smith, in a most appropriate address welcomed the delegates to the city. Dr. A. McLean, of Cincinnati, replied in a most pleasing manner. Belief will be found the full program of the remainder of the session.

Delegates Arriving.

Delegates to the South Kentucky Sunday School and Missionary Association, which holds its first meeting at the Christian church tonight, began arriving yesterday and many will arrive today. The reception committee is composed of Miss Bettie Hopper, Messrs. Dan Young, Will Hopper, Messrs. Nell Donaldson, Hattie Hale, Alise Dabney and Nannie Long. Mrs. James Cook and Mrs. Gabe Payne. Miss Bettie Hopper is chairman of the committee, which meets all trains and assigns places of entertainment for the visitors. The audience room of the Christian church has been beautifully decorated under the supervision of Mrs. Thos. W. Long.

JOINT SUIT

Against I. C. and T. C. Roads Brought Here.

B. Y. Gray, of Julian, on Tuesday filed suit here against the T. C. and I. C. Railroads, jointly, for $1,999.50 damages. The petition states that plaintiff, in April last, purchased a ticket here for Gracely, which is on the I. C. road. Some one cried out "all aboard," when he got on a T. C. train and was taken about three miles out on the line before he discovered his mistake. He states that he informed the conductor of his trouble and was taken on to the next station where he was put off. He states that there was no one on the platform to examine his ticket or give him any information. Plaintiff further states that he was naturally infirm from old age and besides he has been a paralytic since babyhood, with a withered arm, more helpless than a child, and was forced to return to this city alone. He prays damages as above stated "for loss of benefits of trip to Gracely, which was important."

WARMER STILL

Grows the Contest for Most Popular Young Lady.

As the opening day of the big carnival draws nearer the voting for the most popular young lady in the county gets more interesting every day. By a comparison of the vote as published Tuesday and today, it will be seen that Miss Schmidt, though still in second place, has increased her vote 1,081, while Miss Ella Cayce's vote has been increased 877.

It will also be observed that there is a new and important entry into the contest, in the person of Miss Ola Cayce, the popular and attractive book-keeper for J. H. Anderson & Co. Miss Cayce's popularity is widespread throughout the county and she is sure to be an important factor in the race, as she already occupies third place at first entry.

The following is the vote as counted Tuesday afternoon:

School Entertainment.

Quite a number of friends and neighbors enjoyed the closing exercises of Miss Nettie Shanklin's school last Friday night. The school consists of Messrs. J. C. and R. C. Gary's children, and the entertainment was held at the spacious home of Mr. J. C. Gary. The balcony, being draped in white and fern decorations, made a most appropriate stage, while the audience was seated in the yard. The program consisting of recitations, choruses, solos, quartets, drills, instrumental solos and trios, was most excellently carried out. From the thinnest toes to the largest, all did their parts well, some showing rare talent, indeed. The entertainment, as a whole, was most praiseworthy, both for teacher and pupils.

ROUTE TO REUNION.

Tennessee Veterans Will Come Through the City.

The Tennessee Confederate Veterans committee has adopted the T. C. and its connection as the official route to the reunion at Louisville. A special train will be run from Nashville to Louisville, via Hopkinsville. This route was chosen on account of the Illinois Central station in Louisville being only about one block from the Tennessee headquarters. A rate of one cent a mile will apply from all points in Tennessee.

Henderson.....	19	7	12	.368
Hopkinsville.....	19	5	14	.263

The first of the three games scheduled with Cairo was not played Monday on account of rain. Tuesday's game was a close and well played game, which resulted in a victory for the Browns by a score of 4 to 3. Ashley was in the box for Cairo but Waggoner took his place in the seventh inning. Smith twisted for Hopkinsville and developed a fine assortment of curves. Cairo made one score in the first inning and Hopkinsville did the same. Cairo got another in the second and Hopkinsville got one in the fourth, when it looked like two or three were close at hand. In the sixth Cairo made one more and in the eighth Hopkinsville won with two scores. Morris started with a single, Barlow bunted and advanced Morris and was put out at first. McAndrews singled and Myers walked, Morris scoring while McAndrews was being put out in an attempt to steal second.

The fans were filled with joy and Smith was warmly congratulated on winning his first game on the home grounds.

The second game was played yesterday, leaving one game postponed. The batteries were Bomar and Rutledge and Waggoner and Pettit.

The Browns go to Princeton today for 3 games and then to Vincennes for 3.

Thomas, 3d baseman, was released Tuesday and Morris is back on 3rd. Thomas has signed with Henderson. Simpson, a new pitcher, has been signed by Manager Rutledge and is now here.

CHAT OFF THE BAT.

At Princeton Monday Princeton beat Paduach by 6 to 5 in an exciting game, bunching their hits at the right time.

At Vincennes Monday, the locals won by a score of 9 to 6. Brown, late of Hopkinsville, was knocked out of the box in the first inning, and Nonnenmacher was retired in the end of the sixth by a painful injury to his pitching arm. Lemon was put out of the game in the third inning by being hit by a foul ball.

Cairo has bought Bob Blackburn from Toledo. It is said that the price paid was $350. Two new infielders have also been signed, Hipper, who was in the Three Eye last season, and Allen, who played with Wichita in 1904.—Bulletin.

The game at Vincennes Tuesday, between Henderson and Vincennes, resulted in a victory for the latter. The Hens were shut out in this contest, the score being 5 to 0.

At Princeton Tuesday the Infants won from Paduach. The contest was very close and exciting and resulting in a score of 3 to 2.

The Southwest.

A Grand Country for Homeseekers and Investors.

Excursion Rates Twice a Month

Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas offer the greatest inducements for persons desiring to own their homes. Cheap land, producing almost anything that can be grown anywhere, mild climate, good schools, good water, healthful surroundings, and a growing country are some of the advantages.

Unexcelled for raising fruits and vegetables for early markets. Land that can be bought for $5 to $10 per acre can be made to yield $100 to $200 per acre in orchard and truck farm.

First and third Tuesdays of each month we sell homeseekers' tickets from Memphis and Cairo at one fare plus $2 for the round trip.

April 4th and 18th special low round trip rates—less than one way fare—$15 and less from Memphis and Cairo to points in Texas. Low rates in proportion from points East of Memphis and Cairo.

First Kentucky Cavalry U. S. V.

Veterans of Capt. H. C. Leavell's old company are earnestly requested to meet me in Hopkinsville on Saturday, June 3, at 10 o'clock a.m., to complete the muster roll of our old company. THOS. M. BARKER, Lieutenant Commanding.

NOT THE RIGHT MAN

BY MAX ADELER.

Over in Wilmington one of the churches recently called a clergyman named Rev. Joseph Striker. In that city, by a most unfortunate coincidence, there also resides a prominent, prosperous, named Joseph Striker, and rumors were afloat a few weeks ago that the latter Joseph Striker was about to engage in a contest with a Jersey pugilist for the championship. Our sheriff considered it his duty to warn Joseph against the proposed infraction of the laws, and so he determined to call upon the professor of the art of self-defense. Unhappily, in inquiring the way to the pugilist's home, somebody misunderstood the sheriff, and sent him to the residence of Rev. Mr. Striker, of whom he had never heard. When Mr. Striker entered the room in answer to the summons, the sheriff said to him, familiarly:

"Hello, Joe! How are you?"

Mr. Striker was amazed at this address, but he politely said:

"Good morning."

"Joe," said the sheriff, throwing his hat lightly to the arm of the chair, "I came round here to see you about that mill with Patsy Dingus, that they're all talking about. I want you to understand that I can't connect any where around here. You know well enough it's against the law, and I ain't going to have it."

"Mill? Mill, sir? What on earth do you mean?" asked Mr. Striker, in astonishment. "I do not own any mill, sir. Against the law? I do not understand you, sir."

"Now, see here, Joe," said the sheriff, biting off a piece of tobacco, and looking very wise. "That won't do with me. It's pretty plain, you know. I know well enough that you've put up $1,000 on that little affair, and that you've got the whole thing fixed with Bill Martin for a referee. I know you're going down to Pea Patch island to have it out, and I'm not going to allow it. I'll arrest you as sure as a gun if you try it on, now, mind you."

"Really, sir," said Mr. Striker, "there must be some mistake about—"

"Oh, no, there isn't; your name's Joe Striker, isn't it?" asked the sheriff.

"My name is Joseph Striker, certainly."

"I knew it," said the sheriff, spitting on the carpet. "And you, I've got this thing dead right. It shan't come off, and I'm doing you a favor in blocking the game, because Patsy'd curl you all up and choke you, anyway, if I let you meet him."

"I don't know what you are referring to," said Mr. Striker. "Your remarks are incoherent, and I don't understand your tone is very offensive, and if you have any business with me, I'd thank you to state it at once."

"Joe," said the sheriff, looking at him with a benign smile. "You play it mighty well. Anybody'd think you were innocent as a lamb. But it won't work. Joseph, I'll warn you, I ain't got a duty to perform, and I'm going to do it, and I pledge you my word, if you and Dingus don't hook off now, I'll hammer you and send you up for ten years, as sure as death. I'm in earnest about it."

"What do you mean, sir?" said Mr. Striker, severely.

"Oh, don't go to putting on airs about it. Don't you try any strutting before me," said the sheriff, "or I'll put you under ball this very afternoon. Let's see, how long were you in jail last time? Two years, wasn't it? Well, you go fighting with Dingus, and you'll get ten years, sure."

"You are certainly crazy," exclaimed Mr. Striker.

"I don't see what you want to stay at that business for, anyway," said the sheriff. "Here you are in a snug home, where you might live in peace and keep respectable. But no, you must associate with low characters, and go to stripping yourself naked and jumping into a ring to get your nose bloodied, and your head swelled, and your body hammered to a jelly, and all for what? Why, for a championship! It's ridiculous. What good'll it do you, if you are champion? Why don't you try to be honest and decent, and let prize-fighting alone?"

"This is the most extraordinary conversation I ever listened to," said Mr. Striker. "You evidently take me for a—"

"I take you for Joe Striker, and if you keep on, I'll take you to jail!" said the sheriff, with emphasis. "Now, you tell me who's got those stakes, and who's your trainer, and I'll put an end to the whole thing in five minutes."

"You seem to imagine that I am a pugilist," said Mr. Striker. "Let me inform you, sir, that I am a clergyman."

"Joe," said the sheriff, shaking his head. "It's too bad for you to lie that way—too bad, indeed."

"But I am a clergyman, sir—pastor of the church of St. Sepulcher. Look! here is a letter in my pocket addressed to me."

"Certainly I am. Come upstairs, and I'll show you a barrelful of my sermons."

"Well, if this don't beat the very old Nebuchadnezzar!" said the sheriff; "this is just awful! Why, thunder and lightning! I mistook you for Joe Striker, the prize-fighter. I don't know how I ever—A preacher! Insufferable Abraham! What an ass I've made of myself. I don't know how to apologize, but if you want to kick me down the front steps, just kick away; I'll bear it like an angel!"

Then Mr. Striker withdrew unbidden, and the sheriff went upstairs to finish his Sunday sermon. The sheriff talked of resigning, but he continues to hold on to his weekly.

Are You Bilious?

If so, you will have more or less of the following

SYMPTOMS:

Not unfrequently the complexion becomes pale and sallow, there may be frequent attacks of bilious or sick headache, bitter taste in the mouth, tongue coated white or covered with a brown fur, unnatural, dry, harsh, or scaly condition of the skin, or branny eruptions and pimples. There is likely to be "backache," with tired feelings, lassitude and a sense of debility. There is depression of spirits with a decided tendency to be discouraged and despondent. There is loss or irregularity of appetite, uneasiness in region of the stomach, oppression, sometimes sour stomach, "heart-burn," nausea and "water-brash." Flatulency, and acid eructations; the bowels become irregular, usually constipated, and occasionally subject to diarrhea, attended with colicky pains. The foregoing symptoms do not all present in any one case, nor are any two cases alike in every respect.

The only way to help a disordered liver and cure biliousness is to treat it as it is—the great, organic, human filer of the human system.

Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cleanses and clears it; invigorates and revitalizes this most important organ by its wonderful alternative power.

A Terrible Case of Suffering Caused by Liver Trouble.

Dear Sir: I will tell you a true and painful story of a man who has written long letters to me about his liver trouble. I never felt well. The doctor said the trouble was in my liver. I was in a worse condition than I ever was before. Did not take a step but it only made me feel worse. I was all with gas and it would throw up my food to my throat. I kept getting worse, my stomach bloated badly, until there seemed no more room left in my body to hold it. My tongue became coated and the inside of my mouth so sore that, although it caused pain, my voice itself very much. In addition with all this the urine was so acrid that the burning sensation caused the tongue to be so sore that I could not swallow anything. I was all alone, and I was all from place to place, but here I am, saved from place to place, and all thanks due to your Golden Medical Discovery. I used fifteen bottles of your Golden Medical Discovery, and sixteen vials of your Peppermint Cure, and I am now as healthy as ever. I have been in despair—travelling years.

420 Findlay Ave. Big Rapids, Michigan.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, syrup, or sugar, yet keeps perfectly in any climate.

Do Not Be Deceived. It is an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you a substitute for this world-famed medicine. You know what you want. It's his business to need all some kind of a medicine, some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare. Turn your back on any dealer who offers you such treatment."

In obstinate constipation the "Discoveries" may be used in conjunction with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the most natural and thoroughly scientific laxative ever devised. The "Pellets" regulate and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One is a gentle laxative, the other a mild cathartic.

If you require medical advice write Dr. R. V. Pierce who will give you the best advice possible.

Dr. Pierce's 1,000-page "Medical Adviser," is the most useful "doctor book" published. A copy in stiff paper covers sent on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. In cloth binding ten stamps extra. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"The Man In Gray."

BEAUTIFUL THREE-COLOR PRINT.

As its offering of respect to the Confederate Veterans Reunion, the Henderson Route is distributing a beautiful three-color print, entitled "The Man In Gray," which is receiving widespread admiration throughout the entire South.

The picture, which is printed from an extra fine etching, reproduced from an original drawing by Mr. Robert M. Hooe, the celebrated artist of the Louisville Courier-Journal, is 16x22 inches, and is printed on fine-lined paper, sufficiently heavy for use unframed, but equally suitable for framing.

It is executed in three cardinal colors of the Confederacy—gray, blue and red—on a white background, and has been rightly termed by critics "a gem."

They are enclosed in strawboard mailing tubes for safe transmission by mail, thus avoiding any possibility of breakage and insuring safe delivery.

Send five (red) stamps to L. J. Irwin, Louisville, Ky., for this beautiful reproduction, and after you receive it, whether you are from the North or the South, you will be an enthusiastic admirer of the "Hero of the Gray."

MUSSELS FIND MANY USES.

Some Facts About a Familiar Shell-fish—At Its Best in the Spring—How to Cook Them.

Mussels are at their best in the spring. Mussels thrive in bays and inlets, on sandy bottoms, to which, and to one another, they attach by their byssus threads, these being slender filaments issuing from between the shells, says a New York writer. They are sometimes in great beds extending over a hundred acres, thousands of bushels of mussels being obtained in a single bed.

Fishermen go for mussels as soon as the ice is out of the bays in the spring, and sometimes when wind and weather are propitious they sandwich in a trip for mussels between the end of one fishing trip and the beginning of another. There are plenty of mussel beds within easy reaching distance of New York, and once on a mussel bed a load for a ton-troop might be dredged up in a single tide.

So with good luck a fisherman could go to a mussel bed 20, 30 or 40 miles distant, and get a load of mussels, and be back in New York ready to sell them, all within two days.

The profit on the trip depends on what he gets for his catch. If there should be many boatloads of mussels in the market at the same time he would get less for them; but if he should happen to come in when mussels were scarce he would get more. If he got, say, $1.25 a barrel, about an average price, and he had from 50 to 75 barrels in his sloop and he had made a quick trip and disposed of his catch quickly there would be fair money in it.

But the fisherman takes chances in mussel fishing, just as he does in every other sort of fishing.

Fishermen sometimes eat mussels fried, but the great bulk of mussels consumed are pickled. The mussels are first boiled, and then picked out of their shells, and then what is called the beard, which consists of the inward ends of the byssus threads, is removed, and with it a little sac into which the mussel is likely to have drawn more or less sand. Then the mussels are put up in jars in pickle, with a few spices added. Pickled mussels have long been a familiar item of free lunch, and people buy them as well to carry home.

The mussel is a much cheaper shellfish than the oyster or the clam, but still it is not eaten to the same extent. There are people with whom the mussel does not agree, because of its rich flavor. But there are epicures who are fond of them, and who like to eat them occasionally, and so mussels may be found on the bills of fare of the finest restaurants.

Jackmen who go into the country buying junk sometimes take down their jangling bells and stow them away somewhere in the wagon and take into the country a wagonload of mussels, which they dispose of to farmers, trading the mussels, maybe, for junk. Pickled mussels have been shipped from New York at least as far away as Chicago; so that, altogether, the quantity of mussels disposed of in the Gotham market is considerable.

Novel Way to Kill Sharks.

The engineers in the British navy have a very effective way of killing sharks. They seal up a dynamite cartridge in an empty can, and put the can inside a large piece of pork. The pork is thrown overboard on a wire which has been connected with an electric battery. When the shark takes the bait the engineer presses a button, which explodes the cartridge and kills the fish.

A Beginner.

He—The airships do not seem to be perfected yet. The great problem is how can a man be kept up in the air?

His First Attack.

She (tossing with the ring)—And am I the first woman you ever loved?

He—No, indeed. 'At the early age of seven I thought seriously of eloping with my mother—she says I did.
